

Welcome to the new ELKA website including online store

We are pleased to inform you that our new ELKA website, including an online store for our partners, will go online on Monday, May 27, 2024!

Our team has worked intensively to provide you with a first-class and modern shopping experience, and we are proud to introduce many new features to you.

Your benefits as a partner

- ✓ User-friendly online store with configuration options for selected products
- ✓ Everything in one place - Download area with comprehensive product information, such as brochures, assembly instructions, and certificates

- ✓ Spare parts area for barriers and gate openers with ordering function. Simply enter the serial number of your product and find the right spare parts at a glance.
- ✓ Never miss any news - Subscribe to newsletters with selected topics

- ✓ Manage your own partner profile with overview of your orders and specific information, e.g. delivery addresses and role management
- ✓ Multiple users can be registered and managed for one partner profile. The first user is registered as an administrator and can create additional email addresses with permissions for roles such as sales or purchasing through role management. The roles have different access rights to information. An overview can also be found in your profile.

Important information about the registration

As our new online store is based on a completely revised platform, a new registration in the partner and architect area is required. Your previous login data cannot be transferred. We kindly ask you to register again on the new website. To expedite the process, please use your complete company details including your customer number.

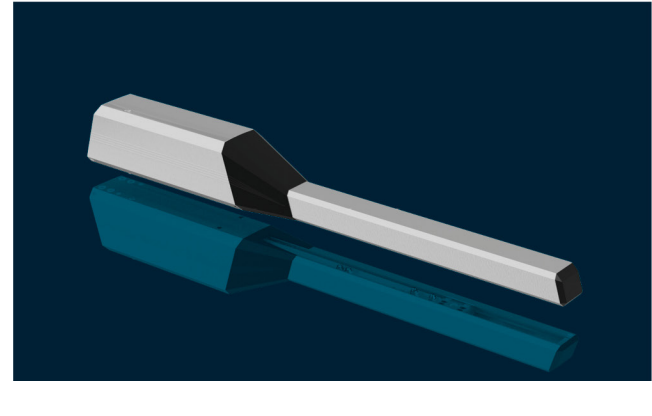

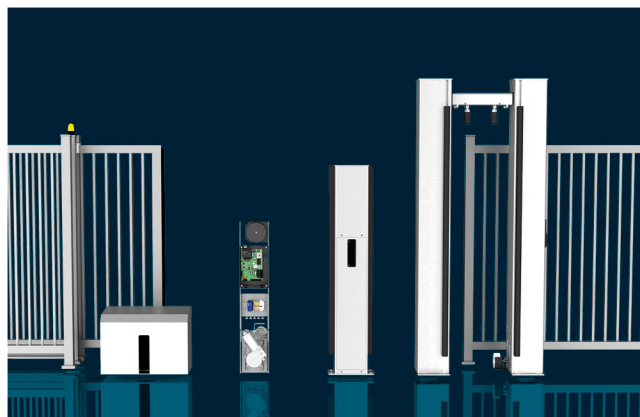

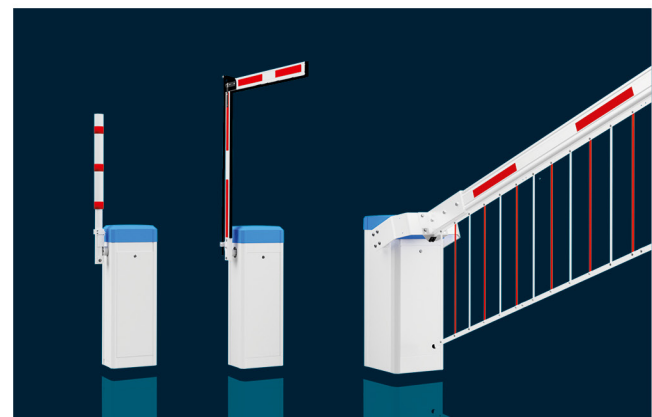

ATTENTION

Minor disruptions may occur at times during the transition phase.

We are constantly working to improve the website to provide you with new content and features.

We look forward to welcoming you to our new website soon!
